Transport from the airport to the venue

Nikola Tesla Airport is the largest airport in Serbia with commercial flights. The airport is located in Surcin near Belgrade, at 75 kilometers from Novi Sad. You can reach the city of Novi Sad either by train or transport companies.

By train

First, it is necessary to take a bus from the airport to the main railway station in Belgrade, from where you will board the train to Novi Sad. The procedure is as follows: when you get off the airport, go to the bus station Aerodrom Nikola Tesla/dolasci/ (Nikola Tesla Airport /arrivals/) and take the bus line number 600. This line operates approximately every 30 minutes. You need to go 13 stops until you reach Belgrade Centre railway station. The ride takes about 32 minutes. Right across the street is the train station where you can take the train to Novi Sad (Petrovaradin station). There are 3 types of trains (the difference between them is the time it takes to get to Novi Sad). More information can be found at the following link: <https://novisad.travel/en/kako-doci-do-nas-2/>. One way ticket price for the Belgrade – Petrovaradin route ranges from 370 to 700 RSD (Serbian dinars) or 3.20-6.00 EUR if you buy it at the railway station or online via mobile: (<https://play.google.com/store/apps/details?id=com.srbijavoz.app&hl=sr&pli=1>)

Train tickets purchased on board are more expensive (additional 500 RSD per each).

When you reach Petrovaradin (Novi Sad) train station there is a direct bus line to the city center of Novi Sad. The tickets are free of charge, however, please double-check with the bus driver.

About Novi Sad

For more than three centuries, under the names Novi Sad / Újvidék / Neusatz, the city has been a space of diverse and rich cultural heritage shaped by the many nations living in it. The material and intangible heritage created over the past centuries forms the foundation of a dynamic network of scientific and cultural institutions, making present-day Novi Sad a vibrant meeting point of cultures and diverse identities.

Novi Sad was awarded the titles of European Youth Capital 2019 and European Capital of Culture 2022, recognition that reflects the creative energy of its youth, cultural organizations, and civil initiatives, which have further strengthened its longstanding cultural tradition.

Today, Novi Sad is a city of museums, galleries, theaters, festivals, and numerous cultural and artistic events throughout the year. With its harmonious blend of an urban core and rural surroundings, including the Danube River and the slopes of Fruška Gora, Novi Sad offers visitors a remarkably rich and diverse experience.
